Over 30 Years of Innovation and Leadership with a commitment to quality, and customer trust, we have been shaping reliable solutions that empower businesses and elevate industry standards

About Us

MDN was founded by the Saudi entrepreneur Sharif Omar Al Nasser in 1993, marking the beginning of its journey as a leading company in electrical contracting and general trading.

Since its establishment, the company has expanded its scope to provide integrated solutions in electronics, information technology, satellite systems, electrical and mechanical engineering, and real estate development.

With over three decades of experience, MDN has built a strong reputation based on innovation, integrity, and excellence, making it a trusted partner in the execution of major projects

Through strategic international partnerships, MDN has broadened its operations across Asia, Africa, and Europe, becoming a well-established global company with exceptional capabilities in delivering advanced projects.

Its remarkable track record in digital transformation, technological innovation, and strategic ventures reflects the company's ambitious vision to expand into key sectors such as energy and water infrastructure, space, and telecommunications

Core Values

Integrity:

We act with honesty and transparency. We operate with honesty, transparency, and ethics – building trust and credibility as the foundation of our success. We hold ourselves accountable to the highest standards, ensuring that every decision, action, and commitment reflects our principles.
